Public Works Technical Bulletin 30 June 2005

No. 200-3-32

ENVIRONMENTAL QUALITY

SOURCES FOR LAND REHABILITATION AND MAINTENANCE EQUIPMENT

1. Purpose. The purpose of this Public Works Technical Bulletin (PWTB) is to transmit information regarding sources for rent, lease, or purchase of heavy equipment for Installation Land Managers that can be utilized at military installations for land rehabilitation and maintenance.

2. Applicability. This PWTB applies to all Continental United States (CONUS) Army and National Guard facilities.

3. References.

a. AR 200-1, Environmental Protection and Enhancement (Headquarters, Department of the Army [HQDA], 21 March 1997).

b. AR 200-2, Environmental Effects of Army Actions (HQDA, 23 December 1988).

c. AR 200-3, Natural Resources - Land, Forest, Wildlife Management (HQDA, 28 February 1995).

d. AR 350-4, Integrated Training Area Management (HQDA, 1 November 1998).

e. Department of Defense Directive 4700.4, Natural Resources Management Program (Department of Defense, 24 January 1989).

f. Executive Order 13148, Greening the Government through Leadership in Environmental Management (26 April 2000), in Federal Register (FR), vol 65, No. 81, pp 24593-24606.

4. Discussion.

a. AR 200-1, AR 200-3, EO 13148, etc. contain policy for either the management of natural resources or to encourage the maintenance, restoration, or greening of training lands and other areas on military installations. Finding sources for the rental, leasing, or purchase of heavy or specialized land management equipment used on military lands restoration or rehabilitation projects can be difficult.

b. The contents of this report are not to be used for advertising or promotional purposes. Citation and inclusion of vendors does not constitute an official endorsement. While efforts were made to be as thorough as possible, the business environment is dynamic. Business startups and failures are inevitable. Consequently, the listings included here may be incomplete. Omission of a vendor does not constitute an official disapproval. Readers are encouraged to submit additions and corrections to the technical POC (listed below) for Future revisions.

c. This document provides a comprehensive list of vendors from whom installations may purchase, lease, or rent heavy and specialized equipment for land rehabilitation and maintenance. Vendors were derived from state, county, telephone directories and organization sources. The developed list will help in securing equipment for management and repair of installation lands.

d. Appendix A contains the background, approach taken, and scope of this project.

e. Appendixes B and C include, respectively, CONUS vendor lists by state and town that supply heavy equipment for land rehabilitation projects, and a list of National vendors of LRAM equipment. (Companies located in three (3) or more states were placed on the National list.)

5. Points of Contact. HQUSACE is the proponent for this document. The POC at HQUSACE is Mr. Malcolm E. McLeod, CEMP-II, 202-761-0632, or e-mail: malcolm.e.mcleod@usace.army.mil.

Appendix A

1. Introduction

a. The mission of the Army is to be prepared for war. The training involved in mission preparedness can and is destructive to the environment. Environmental impacts associated with heavy training include soil compaction, soil erosion, siltation of waterways and wetlands, increased threat of flooding, loss of wildlife habitat, declining biodiversity, and invasion by noxious weeds. Environmental degradation has a negative impact on the training mission as well. Tactical concealment resources are lost. Realism of the natural environment is diminished. Heavily eroded areas become dangerous or impassable with tactical vehicles. Moreover, public outcry over the condition of military training lands jeopardizes the image of the Armed Forces as a capable steward of the land.

b. As a result of the concerns expressed by military land managers and trainers over the declining condition of training and testing lands, the Army’s Integrated Training Area Management (ITAM) program was implemented. ITAM includes land condition and trend analysis (LCTA), environmental awareness (EA), range land (RTLP), and land rehabilitation and maintenance (LRAM). LRAM is essential to training land health and functionality. An important aspect of LRAM is the repair, rehabilitation and maintenance of training lands.

c. Planning and implementing land rehabilitation projects generally involves some soil movement, establishment of vegetation, stabilization and hardening of sites, etc. Procurement of appropriate heavy equipment and other specialized equipment is sometimes difficult for the land manager. It is necessary to obtain multiple vendors, generally when procuring equipment for rental, lease, or purchase. This report and database has been generated to help land managers easily obtain and identify potential vendors for the equipment they will need in their land rehabilitation projects.

2. Objective. The objective of this work was to create a comprehensive and up-to-date list of heavy equipment vendors within the United States, primarily for rental or leasing purposes. The list includes vendors of construction, agriculture, and other equipment needed for erosion control, and land rehabilitation and maintenance.

3. Approach

a. A vendor list was developed from past technical reports, heavy equipment databases, and business information from web-based telephone directories. Using the key phrases “agricultural equipment,” “lawn & garden equipment & supplies renting,” “earth moving equipment rental,” “tractor rent and lease,” “heavy equipment,” “equipment rental,” “contractors equipment,” “machinery rental,” “contractor equipment and supplies,” “land equipment,” “heavy equipment rental,” and “tractor rental,” over 20,000 businesses were identified across the United States. The resulting list was cross-referenced with web-based vendor lists. Duplicate businesses were removed from the list, and the list was augmented from the other databases. All vendors were contacted and questioned to determine whether they rent, sell and/or lease any of the following equipment: field cultivators, rippers/subsoilers, crimpers, harrows/disk harrows, seed harvesters, chisel plows, culti-packers, drum grinders, stump grinders, bush hogs, shredders/wood chippers, broadcast spreaders, boom sprayers, trenchers/chain trenchers, graders, terrace builders, crawler loaders, crawler dozers, backhoe excavators, backhoe loaders, 20-50 hp compact utility tractors, 50-120 hp utility tractors, 100-260 hp farm row tractors, 280-500 hp 4WD articulated tractors, cranes, skid steers, sod cutters, all terrain vehicles, and/or water trucks. Vendor information includes: name, street address, telephone number, web address, and if the equipment was for rent, lease, purchase, or via some combination of the three availability options.

b. A vendor database was created Using Microsoft Access 2003 and ZIPList5 ™ (http://www.zipinfo.com/) products. The database includes both State-by-State and National lists. (If a company was located in three (3) or more states, that company was then placed on the National list.) Sources of information included:

“2004 Buyers Guide,” Land and Water (Fort Dodge, IA, November/December 2003).

White Pages (2004), available through URL:

4. Scope. Users of this list of sources should be aware that there is wide variability between vendor capabilities; not all vendors will carry all equipment. For any given piece of equipment, it may be necessary to contact a large number of potential vendors. In addition, the availability and price of equipment tend to vary seasonally and annually based on supply and demand.
