Huntsville Center Housing Team receives recognition for efforts after Hurricane Katrina

HUNTSVILLE, Ala. — Huntsville Center's unaccompanied military personnel housing team received recognition Feb. 3 at the Professional Housing Management Association's annual professional development seminar in San Diego, Cal. The team's program manager, Alicia Allen, received an appreciation plaque presented by the PHMA's president, Michael Shelton. Team members are Katrena Pope, Jay Clark, Sue Werner, Katherine Atkins, Alicia Allen, Beatrice Hill, Heather Holder, Larry McIntosh, Debbie Bogema, Jane Davis, and Marcus Searles.

The team was recognized for exemplary efforts to procure furniture for families affected by Hurricane Katrina who were living in government leased housing at Fort Polk, La. The team's efforts made possible the procurement and delivery of entire houses of furniture in less than four weeks, ensuring families living in homes with nothing more than twin beds were provided furnishings for use while in the Fort Polk housing.

Team members also received coins from Fort Knox, Ky., Fort Jackson, S.C., and Fort Hood, Texas during the UPH portion of the Army day meetings at PHMA.

The mission of PHMA is to contribute toward better quality housing for military members and their families by continuously raising the level of proficiency and professionalism within the
