Who We Are: Our Charter

ER 10-1-22

Huntsville Center has programmatic and functional boundaries in lieu of geographical boundaries. We execute programs and projects that:

Are national or broad in scope

Require integrated facilities or systems that cross geographical division boundaries

Require commonality, standardization, multiple site adaption, or technology transfer

Require a centralized management structure for effective control of program development, coordination and execution

Require functions to be performed that are not normally accomplished by a HQUSACE organizational element
